

COLLEGE AUDITION PREP

College audition prep is a very stressful time for students and families. I experienced that, first hand, and have helped students through it since graduating college myself. The college audition process is ever-changing, but hopefully, I can make it easier for you!

I went through the college audition process in 2014 to study musical theater. I applied to 14 colleges, auditioned at 10 and was accepted to 8. Once selecting Temple University, I became the monitor of the following years for potential students' auditions. I saw, first hand, the do's and don'ts of college auditions.

After college, I moved to New York City, performing in two Off-Broadway productions, and consistently working in regional theaters along the East Coast. I am actively in the business and a voice teacher. As someone young, and in the business, I see the talent and the people colleges produce.

Connections

Connections are extremely important when it comes to college audition prep. This gives you the opportunity to potentially shadow at a school, have a scheduled Q&A session with current or previous students, and show you have done your research on current students and alumni. The following schools are where I have personal connections for such opportunities:

- Pace University
- DeSales University

- Temple University
- Ithaca College
- Montclair State University
- Syracuse University
- Muhlenberg College
- Liberty University
- University of the Arts
- University of Alabama
- James Madison University
- Rider University
- Marymount Manhattan College
- Wright State University
- Point Park University
- New York University
- SUNY Ferdonia
- University of Michigan
- Elon University
- SUNY at Buffalo
- Boston Conservatory
- Emerson College
- Wagner College

Price: $700

College Audition Prep can be paid in full or in a mutually agreed-upon payment plan.
